

Working with Children Check Renewals go Digital.

A Working with Children Check (WWCC) lasts for five years and then needs to be renewed. It is likely there are people in your organisation working or volunteering in child-related work, whose check will expire soon.

In great news for you and your child-related workers and volunteers, you can now skip the queue and digitally renew your WWCC in as little as 10 minutes.

Online renewals remove the need for busy workers to visit a Service NSW Centre. The new process is streamlined, efficient and secure and will become the go-to renewal method for essential workers looking to easily meet their compliance obligations and reclaim valuable time.

Enabled by photo verification tech, the process delivers a high-level of security by ensuring the images are destroyed after the real-time check is completed, without the hassle of submitting physical documents.

Since launching late last year, more than 3000 customers have successfully renewed their WWCC online and 98% of those who provided feedback gave a 'thumbs up' to the online experience.
